TEYNIER PIC APPOINTS YANN DEHAUDT-DELVILLE AS PARTNER

Admitted to both the Paris and New York Bars, Yann Dehaut-Delville has over a decade of experience advising French and foreign companies, investors, States and State entities in international arbitration and litigation.

Yann acts in commercial and investment arbitrations conducted under the aegis of institutions such as the ICC, LCIA, DIAC and ICSID, as well as in ad hoc proceedings. He also has extensive experience in court proceedings relating to the recognition, enforcement and setting aside of arbitral awards and foreign court judgements, as well as in cross-border commercial disputes.

His sectoral expertise spans a wide range of industries, including energy, construction, telecommunications, aeronautics and aerospace, logistics, distribution, banking, pharmaceuticals and hospitality.

Since joining the firm as Counsel in 2022, Yann has led several strategic matters involving prominent public and private sector actors.

Over the past two years, Yann notably represented a leading European aerospace manufacturer in an ICC arbitration seated in New York, concerning a low-Earth orbit satellite constellation project. He also advised a Lebanese group, the leading toy and games retailer in the Levant, in a DIAC arbitration seated in Dubai against its Qatari sub-franchisee. In another matter, he defended a consortium of Spanish and Italian companies in proceedings relating to the enforcement of first demand guarantees arising from a major infrastructure project in Kuwait, which resulted in ICSID arbitration. He is currently advising a European State in annulment proceedings concerning an ICC award related to the privatisation of its oil sector, and a major international organisation in the recognition and enforcement in France of a foreign court judgment. Finally, he acts for a major bank in multiple judicial proceedings in connection with the Lebanese financial crisis.

Alongside his counsel practice, Yann sits as an arbitrator and has served as sole arbitrator in several ICC matters.

Before joining Teynier Pic, Yann practised in the international arbitration teams of Freshfields and Dechert in Paris, and at Le 16 Law, also in Paris.

Eric Teynier, Partner and co-founder of Teynier Pic, comments: "Yann is a talented lawyer, at the crossroads of civil law and international law, with a strong grounding in common law reasoning. His experience as counsel in arbitration and litigation, and now also as an arbitrator, equips him with the full range of capabilities required to handle the challenges of international disputes. His appointment reinforces our firm's growth momentum and the robustness of our boutique, which celebrated its 20th anniversary last year. With Yann, we reach a new milestone: he becomes the sixth partner of Teynier Pic, which now comprises around twenty lawyers. This critical mass enables us to position ourselves among the leading specialist teams in arbitration and international dispute resolution in the French market."

Danny Rifaat, Partner, adds: "We are delighted to welcome Yann to the partnership. In addition to his outstanding technical abilities, he fully embodies the values of our firm: team spirit, pride in a job well done, kindness and respect. He is open-minded, respectful and pleasant. It is particularly stimulating to work with him. His promotion also underlines our firm's deep commitment to investing in our people and supporting the growth of those who share our vision."

Biography

Yann Dehaudt-Delville pursued a dual academic path in France and the United States, studying at Université Panthéon-Sorbonne in Paris and Fordham University School of Law in New York. During his studies, he assisted Dr Eduardo Valencia-Ospina in his role as Special Rapporteur on the protection of persons in the event of disasters at the United Nations International Law Commission (2011–2013).

He began his legal career in 2014 at Freshfields in Paris, before joining the international arbitration team at Dechert. In 2019, he joined Le 16 Law, where he developed further expertise in French commercial litigation. Yann joined Teynier Pic in May 2022 as Counsel and was appointed Partner in June 2025. He practises in both French and English.

About TEYNIER PIC

Founded in 2004 by Eric Teynier and Pierre Pic, Teynier Pic is the first independent boutique firm dedicated to international and domestic dispute resolution in France. Our firm focuses on dispute resolution and offers a full range of services, from the prevention of disputes to the enforcement and setting aside of court decisions and arbitration awards, through to the conduct of arbitral and court proceedings, which is the core of our practice.

Our firm is recognised as one of the major players in litigation and arbitration, and acts for a wide variety of clients, whom we assist in their complex and sensitive cases.

We assist in the resolution of disputes on every continent. The vast majority of our cases involve cross-border issues. Our team is composed of lawyers with international backgrounds and profiles.

Historically based in Paris, we also are present in other major arbitration centres, such as London, New York, Dubai and Beirut, through strategic alliances with several renowned law firms and legal practitioners across the world.
